

More effective mobile workers means better public services

Community nurses spend
only 37%
of their time on patient care<sup>1</sup>

98%
of community healthcare leaders
have technology on the agenda<sup>2</sup>

Only 12%
of police can access case-file
information via mobile devices<sup>3</sup>

73% of police
forces have made frontline
worker efficiency a priority<sup>4</sup>

82% of social care
leaders are looking towards increased use of new technologies to reduce admin and improve service<sup>5</sup>

With new technology,
NHS workers can free up
clinical time by

up to 92%
and reduce travel time
by 33%<sup>6</sup>

The benefits of improved
workforce mobility
are far reaching

Simpler

Connect multiple devices and applications to create easy to use, intuitive systems that help you perform at your best, improve efficiency and make work more satisfying.

Faster

Instant access to real-time information allows decisions to be made quicker—wherever you are—so you can save time and get more done.

Smarter

Reduce paper-based processes, duplicated effort and errors. Increase productivity and reduce costs.

How are organisations using
Total Workforce
Mobility solutions?

Fife Council equipped their field-based electricians with rugged mobile devices that allowed them to transmit the details of each job electronically. The result? Reduced admin and a 20% increase in productivity.

NHS Western Isles nurses carry revolutionary digital pens. The pens transmit their notes securely, reduce admin and give them the time to make over 5,000 additional visits every year.

Met Police introduced iPads and a bespoke app that helped their officers slash admin time and give each officer an additional 6 hours a week on the beat.

Payback
is most often
within months<sup>7</sup>

Savings can be as much as £6m per year<sup>7</sup>

Moving to a Total Workforce
Mobility solution
can deliver a 46% increase in productivity<sup>7</sup>
