

Vodafone Consent Agreement Terms and Conditions

Parties	This Stored Credential Consent Agreement (the “Agreement”) is between Vodafone Limited (“Vodafone”) and you, the cardholder who is responding to this agreement (hereinafter “Cardholder” or “You”).
Reason for storing Credentials	Stored Payment Card information (‘Stored Credentials’) are used to process payments that cannot be processed immediately. By accepting these terms, you authorise Vodafone to store these Payment Card Credentials for use at a later time, in accordance with the Purpose of this Agreement, and in compliance with payment processing regulations.
Purpose	These Stored Credentials may be used by you to make one-off payments for Vodafone products and services, either online, via a Vodafone Contact Centre, or by other channels as appropriate.
	These Stored Credentials may be used by Vodafone to take recurring payments, according to the terms of the separate Contract that you have with Vodafone, to which this Consent Agreement relates. This Consent Agreement applies both to your Vodafone products and to any ‘Extras’ associated to your Vodafone products (for example, an Extra for additional texts.) If you no longer wish to use these Stored Credentials for recurring payments, please contact Vodafone Customer Services to arrange an alternative payment method.
Stored Credentials	The Stored Credentials may be updated from time to time by the Card Issuer. Whenever the Stored Credentials are automatically updated by the Card Issuer a new Consent Agreement will be generated to replace this one.
Duration	This Consent Agreement is valid until either: The Agreement expires; the Agreement is cancelled; or the Stored Credentials are updated by the Card Issuer.
Updating Stored Credentials	You may update these Stored Credentials by visiting My Vodafone or by contacting Vodafone Customer Services for guidance. It will be necessary to enter into a new Consent Agreement for the new Stored Credentials, and this Agreement will come to an end.
Cancellation of this Agreement	You may cancel this Consent Agreement by contacting Vodafone Customer Services for next steps.
Notification of Changes	Vodafone shall notify you by email of any changes to this Consent Agreement.
